The motorman grinned, but I did not:
"I'll make complaint," said I;
"'I'll make your old position but-"
A grin was bis reply.
He stopped again, and up the sisle
A lovely maiden came;
Her lips half parted in a smile,
Cheeks tinged with rosy flame.

Checks tinged with roay flame.

Now, will that flend turn on the crank,
To cause this maid mishap?

Coincidence: He gave a yank
And popped her in my lap.
Lought her, clees she would have gone
Clean through the window glass.
A space of Paradise, I own,
But it was brief, alse!

But it was brief, alas!
She found a more congenial seat,
Sweet maid was mortified;
She looked a moment at her feet
Rubarrassment to hide.
When finally I made retreat,
The motorman grinned, for he
Supposed he'd cased my angry her
And made amends to me.

A reduction of pay similar to the one now being made was put in force during Mr. CLEVELAND'S first Ad-ministration, but the old rate was restored by Secretary FOSTER. It is asserted that the action in reducing the pay of the printers is in order to make up an expected deficiency which will be caused by the Bureau undertaking the printing of postage stamps, and which, it appears, they cannot produce as cheaply as their bid indicated, with pre-vailing prices for labor, an indication of further Democratic economy—wage re-

TRAIN ROBBED.

Watches, Peckethous, Etc., Poured Into the Robbert Outstretched Hands Without Protest.

Sitox Cirv, Ia., Dec. 22.—When the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul passenger train from South Dakota came before daybreak, four men went into one of the coaches some distance from the depot. They used no revolvers, but had masks covering their faces. Two took each side of the car, which they worked in less than five minutes. Nearly every passenger was relieved of a watch or pocketbook. The job was done so what was occurring until the men had gone. Not a hand was raised against them, and hardly a word was said by the robbers. Only a few passengers stopped to make complaint at the depot. The rest went on their way-ashamed, apparently, to tell about the affair. There is no clew to the robbers.
